

I am shocked at the proposed new rules on single entity media ownership. We used to feel sorry for the Russians because the government closely controlled and monitored their news. If the rules are changed, we are getting closer and closer to a monopoly of the news by a few.